How Michigan Aided Arkansas Drought Victims

Five trucks, bound for the drought-stricken area near Helena, Ark., are shown here being loaded with 20 tons of foodstuffs and farm produce at Benton Harbor, Mich. The News-Palladium of Benton Harbor sponsored the food relief expedition and the cargo was to be turned over to the Helena Evening World to feed school children.

Vote to Be Taken On College Name

Straw Votes Recently Are Mailed to Parents of Students

CONWAY.—So widespread has opposition to the changing the name of Hendrix College developed on the campus, that Jim Montgomery, editor of the College Profile, recently mailed out straw votes to parents of students asking their opinion of the change. The college paper has waged a fight for the retention of the name Hendrix since the merger of Galloway and Hendrix was completed several months ago. The student body is opposed to the change almost 100 per cent, it was said.

Business interests of the city and alumni of the colleges are being questioned as to their views and a straw vote may be taken among these two groups. The opposition in the city and state is declared by students to be as strong as among the Hendrix students.

Bulletins

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Veterans relief plans now before the House Ways and Means Committee further narrowed Thursday to increased loan payments. The plan was changed at a morning session to call for a 25 per cent loan on the face value of the certificates.

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Democratic Leader Joseph T. Robinson, Thursday told the Senate it would be charged with inefficiency if it failed to pass the $20,000,000 compromise relief proposal.

Hope War Veteran Is Winner of Suit

Verdict of $8050 Is Given Willis N. Hairston in Second Trial

TEXARKANA.—Total disability from forms of colitis said to have been contracted during his World War service earned a $8050 verdict in Arkansas federal court Wednesday for Willis N. Hairston, Hope war veteran. He sued on a war risk insurance policy. It was the second trial of the suit, the original jury having disagreed.

Hairston attributed the disease to an attack of measles suffered when he was at Camp Pike, near Little Rock. He said he had been totally disabled since May 20, 1919, and was unable to work. He has been under medical care since, and was in the veterans' bureau hospital at Houston.

Trial began Wednesday afternoon of a war risk insurance suit by T. J. McCoy, who took a non-suit in one of two practically identical cases which had been filed. McCoy claims total and permanent disability resulting from tuberculosis of the spine and lungs, said to have been contracted before his discharge from the army.

Testimony was suspended for a ruling by Judge Frank A. Youmans as to whether James A. Winn, regional manager of the veterans' bureau at Little Rock, had authority to pass final judgment on McCoy's application. The government contended that under an order prevailing at the time in 1928, Winn had no such authority, and that consequently no proof of disagreement had been set up.

Motion for dismissal was filed by defendants in Charles E. Logan, vs. Coleman Brothers, a suit brought to clear title on lands because of alleged usury practiced in connection with a certain loan on the property.

Orders Wednesday included Holden vs. Franklin Insurance company, dismissed at plaintiff's cost; and Clark vs. Miller county, continued on plaintiff's motion.

Arkansas to Have Veterans Hospital

Appropriation of $600,000 For Structure Seems Assured in House

WASHINGTON. A $600,000 appropriation for a hospital in northwest Arkansas for disabled World War veterans seems assured at the present session of Congress. The general hospital authorization bill, carrying a $600,000 authorization for the Arkansas structure, will be before the House next week for passage. The House Veterans' Committee has reported favorably on the bill by Representative Claude A. Fuller of Arkansas. The Fuller bill calls for an eventual expenditure of $1,600,000 to provide a 400-bed general hospital. Several cities and towns in northwest Arkansas will compete for the hospital location.

Income Tax Agent To Arrive Monday

R. A. Smith, Deputy Collector, to Be in Hope 16th and 17th

The first sure sign of spring is here appeared Thursday with the announcement that a federal income tax collector will reach Hope next Monday, February 16, and will be here through Tuesday, the 17th, assisting Hempstead county taxpayers to make out their federal returns.

The agent will be R. A. Smith, and while his office location has not yet been announced, temporary headquarters are usually made either at the city hall or Hotel Barlow.

Mr. Smith will serve Lafayette county in March, arriving at Stamps March 2, and Louisville, March 3. Howard county will be served by George F. Plymale, who will be stationed at Nashville one day only, Thursday, February 19.

In a formal announcement to the press, A. J. Russell, federal collector of internal revenue for Arkansas said: "The deputies are sent out over the state to assist federal income taxpayers in making their 1930 returns which will be filed no later than March 14, 1931, and to relieve taxpayers of any expense in connection with filing. You are requested to give the itinerary, in so far as it applies to your section of the state, all the publicity you wish."

"A federal income tax return is required from every citizen or resident of the United States, whose gross income is over $5000.00 or whose net income is $1500.00 if single or married and not living with husband or wife."

The Dakota pastor dressed as a farmer, and went from place to place, applying for work, and noting conditions, before offering the food to the Red Cross. The supplies were contributed through radio appeals made over Station WNAK at Yankton, it was said.

Included in the shipment will be 1,000 army shirts, 1,000 suits of underwear, potatoes, butter, eggs, breakfast food and other edibles.

McRae Honored By Legislature

Tribute to Be Paid to Late Executive of State Friday

LITTLE ROCK. (AP)—A governor whose influence over his political party in the state perhaps increased rather than waned after he passed from office is to be honored at memorial services in the legislature Friday.

A joint session of the two branches will be held at 2 p. m. Friday to pay tribute to former Governor Thomas C. McRae who has died since the 1929 legislative session.

Governor McRae's political influence was sought and respected by leaders of the democratic party in Arkansas long after he went back to his banking and other business interests at Prescott after two terms in the governor's office.

House Fights Over School Millage Tax Thursday Morning

Henderson, a State Institution, Seeking to Hold Its Maintenance

McRAE IS HONORED

Both Houses Hold Session Honoring Memory of Thos. C. McRae

LITTLE ROCK. (AP)—A scramble for and against one and eight tenths millage tax for schools began in the House Thursday with friends of Henderson State Teachers college seeking an apportionment tax so its maintenance will be obtained by cutting other schools revenue from ten to twenty thousand dollars.

Representative Johnson, of Johnson county, supported a bill to redistribute the millage, saying, they'll be coming here asking for their two-tenths of a mill.

Such a bill is pending in the house. "The state needs another school about as much as a fish needs an umbrella," Johnson said he asserted in 1929, when the state took over Henderson, "and I still believe a lot of these schools should be abolished."

The debate was cut short by the noon recess and at two in the afternoon both houses convened in joint session in memory of the late governor, Thomas C. McRae.

Poultry Provided For Drouth Area

Live Chickens and Feed Included in Gift From Northern States

LITTLE ROCK.—Coming to Arkansas as an "unofficial ambassador" from South Dakota, Dr. D. E. Cleveland has completed a survey of drouth conditions in the state, and yesterday advised Red Cross officials that 20 carloads of food from his state are available. The offer was accepted by the Red Cross, and a part of the shipment is en route here, it was said.

Included in the 29 cars, collected from South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota and Montana, are four cars of chickens and four cars of poultry feed. It is the plan of the Northern relief workers to help stock Arkansas farms with poultry, establishing a "live on the farm" program. According to the plan, the South Dakotians 11 chickens will be distributed by the Red Cross to each family in the area hardest hit.

Dr. Cleveland, known as the radio pastor of his state, with his home in Yankton, came to Arkansas several days ago, and began an investigation of relief methods. Officials who had charge of assembling the food were not familiar with relief work here, and wished to find the best agency for its distribution. The Red Cross was selected, Dr. Cleveland said.

The Dakota pastor dressed as a farmer, and went from place to place, applying for work, and noting conditions, before offering the food to the Red Cross. The supplies were contributed through radio appeals made over Station WNAK at Yankton, it was said.

Included in the shipment will be 1,000 army shirts, 1,000 suits of underwear, potatoes, butter, eggs, breakfast food and other edibles.

Egg Battle Planned to Reduce Surplus

TRULOCK, Cal. (AP)—Rotary and Exchange Club men Friday will egg each other on with a view to reducing the present large surplus of eggs in this vicinity and stabilizing the poultry industry.

Clad in armor and carrying baskets of eggs the club members will hurl the missiles at each other until about 100 cases of eggs are only a fragrant memory.

The winning club will challenge service club teams of Modesto, Meaced and other towns. The events will be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Basketball Fans See Plenty Action

Five Games Are Played Wednesday Night at Local Armory

Basketball fans had an opportunity for plenty of action at the local armory Wednesday night when there were five games played for the approval of the audience and for the price of one admission ticket.

Friday night is scheduled to be another headliner, for it is at that time some strange faces are to be seen on the local court. The Columbus boys have scheduled a game at that time with the DeQueen boys, who are said to be the outstanding team of their set on.

The Columbus girls also are slated for some strong opposition when they play the Mineral Springs girls here Friday night, before the DeQueen-Columbus boys battle.

Following is the list of games and results from Wednesday nights games: Spring Hill girls, 12; Piney Grove girls, 6.

Spring Hill girls, 24; Emmet girls, 5.

Spring Hill boys, 22; Emmet boys, 7.

Spring Hill boys, 26; Guernsey boys, 14.

Patmos boys, 20; Piney Grove boys, 12.

Large crowds have been attending these games at the local armory but it is expected that one of the largest attendances of the season will witness the games on Friday night.

Falls Off Bridge, Injured Fatally

John Wilson of Ft. Smith Dead as Result of Long Plunge

FORT SMITH.—John Wilson, aged 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wilson, well known Fort Smith residents, died Wednesday night from injuries received about 11 when he fell 60 feet from the Garrison avenue bridge to a sandbar where the Arkansas and Missouri rivers join.

Wilson, whose father is president of the Wilson Coffee Company was walking on the railing of the bridge and lost his balance. Four girls saw the accident.

It was impossible to get to the body except from the bridge and Joe Lindberg, member of the city Fire Department, was lowered on a rope, recovered the youth and was pulled up by members of the Fire and Police Departments, under the direction of Night Captain Warner Sertain. It required a half hour to raise the two men from the bar to the top of the bridge. Wilson died on the way to the hospital.

Besides his parents he is survived by two brothers, James H. Wilson, Jr. and Richard Wilson.

Believe Negro Slayer in Arkansas

Is Alleged to Have Killed Railroad Officer in Louisiana

MONTICELLO, Ark. (AP)—A wounded negro, believed to be the slayer of Byron J. Gordon, a railway officer at Monroe, La., last Monday, was being sought in this section Wednesday by Drew county officers and Sheriff Carterdale, of Monroe, following discovery that he spent Monday night at a negro home near here.

Index Bridge Bill Starts Fight After Its Passage Wed.

Would Return Accrued Funds to Prolong the Toll Payments

DEMAND FREE BRIDGE

Funds on Hand Nearly Equal the Outstanding District Bonds

LITTLE ROCK. (AP)—By a vote of 87 to 0, the house approved a bill by Waldrop, of Little River, and Butler, of Independence, to refund to property owners of the Red River bridge district taxes collected for the past few years and funds accruing from toll collections from the bridge over Red River at Index.

Approximately $172,000 in tolls now in the hands of the credit of the district, under the terms of the bill, would be paid back to taxpayers of the district, primarily, Representative Waldrop explained, to aid in financing this year's crops.

Fight Instituted Here

TEXARKANA.—Efforts to save the Index bridge fund from the provisions of the Waldrop-Butler bill were begun Wednesday as soon as news of its passage by the house was received. Attorneys attached to the Chamber of Commerce's Index bridge committee studied the contract with bond buyers to determine whether the $172,467.10 accumulated from tolls and other sources can be legally diverted as the measure specifies.

Senator Ned A. Stewart, slated for president pro tem of the senate, had already promised to lend his support against the bill should it reach the house.

Cash Almost Equals Bonds

The cash on hand, according to the annual report of the Red River bridge district filed with the county clerk January 28, is nearly sufficient to retire outstanding bonds totaling $173,500.

Commissioners of the district have previously stated that they have been unable to persuade bond holders to turn in the certificates, which are payable annually through 1938. They bear five and a half per cent interest. However, commissioners have been able to buy $25,000 of the bonds in advance of their maturity dates. Of these, $14,000 have been retired, while $11,000 are held in the district's treasury as part of its assets, awaiting only formal cancellation on the dates of their maturity. No interest is paid, of course, on the bonds held in the treasury.

Though a statement was undoubtedly Wednesday from Louis Josephs, secretary of the district, who would not commit the board by any remark of his own, it was understood that the commissioners' plan was to accumulate funds sufficient to retire all outstanding bonds, together with the interest due during the remaining 8 years, after which tolls on the structure would be eliminated or reduced.

Authorities Seek To Identify Man

Man Found Buried in the Woods Believed to Have Been Murdered

MEMPHIS. (AP)—Authorities turned Thursday to Johnson City, Tenn., and Hot Springs, Arkansas for a possible identification of a neatly dressed man found beaten to death and buried secretly in woods near here Wednesday night.

Barney Fneburg of Hot Springs, said he recalled a chance acquaintance with a man who gave him the name of Ed. Farnell, while both were at the Veterans Hospital in Johnson City and said that the dead man had mustache similar to Fneburg's acquaintance.

The dead man who seems to be between fifty and sixty years of age was discovered by two negro hunters. A letter addressed to Harry Michael of Memphis led to the questioning of Fneburg, who Michael said had been here with a stranger lately.

Ounce of Prevention

EVER since Leoware decided to take a hand and spank its erring children she hasn't had nearly so many misdemeanors. And now Pennsylvania is wondering if the punishment used by the state next door might not work pretty well in her own backyard. She doesn't know whether or not she should take her wrongdoers to the woodshed.

Racketeers, highwaymen, and lesser lights in the underworld have been getting rather bold lately. Somehow being locked up for awhile doesn't seem to bother them. "Doing a stretch" is part of the game. And a good many people think perhaps that an old-fashioned thrashing might be effective.

Physical humiliation, before one's fellows, is something that takes the braggadocio out of the most hardened crook.
And a beginner, who is just starting his apprenticeship,
would probably decide the game is off.

No small boy gets any pleasure out of going to the wood-shed that takes the braggadocio out of the most hardened crook.
while all the neighborhood urchins grin mischievously from the alley. No matter how brave he might have been in climbing a tree and stealing forbidden apples, his pride crumbles in the dust when the hair brush or hickory limb enters the picture. If he had merely been sent to bed without his supper he could have posed as a hero. But being spanked . . .
The glory that was Greece and the grandeur that was Rome aren't any more obsolete than the hero that was Billy Smith or Johnny Jones.

Perhaps the blows are given lightly. But that has little to do with the case. It is the very fact that they are given which humiliates and grieves the erstwhile gay, brave victim.

This same principle applies to the older breakers of graver laws. Punishment is so much more personal when it is done with a whipping machine. It makes the one who is being punished feel like a culprit instead of a bandit king.

Many claim that the very fact that whipping breaks the spirit of a person is proof enough that there should be a hands-off ruling. A spirit that rides rough-shod over others' rights and privileges certainly needs to be curbed. If some all-wise way of leading it into useful channels, without the whipping post humiliation, could be found no one would object.

But if it can't, a few strokes of a paddle, if they will prevent the murder of dozens of respectable, useful citizens, really can't be such a bad thing.

Besides, no one ever goes to a woodshed unless he has broken a rule. If whipping is so dreadful it will be a mighty good ounce of prevention.

And the spanked parties will have the consolation of knowing that it really is hurting the state worse to take that means of bringing them back in step than it is the victim.

For we don't want to go backward again. We would much rather reason with the erring ones. But they won't listen.

Up to the Individual

THERE have been a good many explanations offered for the business depression of the past year. Not often, however, has anyone suggested that the trouble had its origin in moral shortcomings rather than economic defects. But Solomon Levitan, state treasurer of Wisconsin, touched on this theme in a recent speech in Milwaukee, and his remarks are worth examining a little.

"The stability of a country," says Mr. Levitan, "is directly traceable to the ethics of its people. We hear a great deal these days about changing standards of life, but there are some things that cannot change, and one of these is honesty. The principle of honesty is as unchangeable as the principle of mathematics, and it must be the basis of all our dealings, national and international, if we are to expect a solution of some of the problems now confronting nations.

"What is it that has brought on present conditions? Has it not been false values, gambling, ignorance, fear and loss of confidence? The only way to restore normal conditions is by restoring confidence with true values, honest pay for honest service rendered—in short, the application of the Golden Rule.

"You may think I am old-fashioned to talk to you along these lines, but there are certain fundamentals of business and of living that cannot be ignored. I believe Russia's present system of government is doomed to failure because it has set aside and is opposed to the basis of the laws of every civilized country. I refer to the ten commandments as well as to the Golden Rule. These ancient rules of conduct constitute the law of individual rights—set them aside and you as individuals will have no rights and no protection."

All of this is somewhat out of the ordinary, in a discussion of economic and political ills. Yet there is a good deal of sound sense in it. What a nation is, after all, depends in the last analysis on what its members are individually. During the boom times preceding the stock market crash of 1929 we had, as individuals, fallen into some unhealthy ways of thinking. We had the desire to get something for nothing, and we forgot that the old standards could not safely be ignored. Is it, after all, stretching things to trace the ultimate cause of many of our recent misfortunes to the source that Mr. Levitan indicates?

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., —(U.P.)—It will be school days again for many business men next July.

ecutives will be given at Harvard Graduate School of Business Admi-

ment and railway transportation.

Medical Students at Tulane Are Patients

NEW ORLEANS —(U.P.)—Students at the Tulane University Medical College know how it feels to be a patient.

Junior students in the laboratory course of clinical medicine were required to swallow rubber stomach tubes by their professor Dr. Foster
M. Johns.

This was done Dr. Johns explained, in order that they might experience the actual sensations felt by their future patients and appreciate the significance of the process.

Dr. Johns started the demonstration by passing the rubber tube down his own throat while he discussed various points in the process.

Four Totaled 354 Years

citizens of Doddsville, tiny farming village of the Mississippi delta, have a combined age equal to 354 years.

King Cotton Reigned Again in Memphis

MEMPHIS, —(U.P.)—Cotton was King again at the Cotton Carnival.

A parade with more than 40 bands
and floats entered from Arkansas, Mississippi, and Tennessee towns opened the week given over to educating the southern farmer and citizens to new uses of cotton.

Streets were spanned by cotton arches and stores displayed cotton goods and products.

Special cotton exhibits were opened and miniature cotton bales were sold on the streets by Junior League members and debutantes, past and present. Unemployed were given work to help in the pageant.

Oslo Legation Attache Defies Recall By Soviets

OSLO, —(A.P.)—I. M. Rosentkivits,
a civil engineer and chemist, attached to the Soviet legation in Oslo, defied orders recalling him to Moscow.

"A life without law, without morals, without religion, a life of starvation, filled with lies and hopeless despair," was his description of Russia today.

"We were seven members of a refrigeration committee, just before I left Russia," he said. "The other six have been executed within the five months I have been in Norway."
He has left Oslo, however, and is believed to be in Germany.

How humble, yet how hopeful, he could be;
How in good fortune and in ill, the same;

Report Postmaster General Withheld

Refuses to Give Senate Investigators Lease Data at Hearing

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Postmaster General Brown refused Wednesday to furnish the senate post office lease investigating committee information which formed the basis of a report by him to President Hoover last summer.

He was being questioned in connection with the department's leasing policies.

Chairman Blaine said he wanted to question Brown on his "attitude on the production of certain records" in the department. The report last summer recommended purchase of a number of postal quarters now leased.

The postmaster general said he wanted to aid the committee's inquiry in any way he could but to furnish the department's records would be "incompatible with public interest."

Sisters Die in 24 Hours

SUNSHINE MELLOWS Heat Purifies

LUCKIES are always kind to your throat

The advice of your physician is: Keep out of doors, in the open air, breathe deeply; take plenty of exercise in the mellow sunshine, and have a periodic check-up on the health of your body.

Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why the "TOASTING" process includes the use of the Ultra Violet Rays. LUCKY STRIKE—made of the finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED"—an extra, secret heating process. Harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos are expelled by "TOASTING." These irritants are sold to others. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat.

TUNE IN—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra; every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening over N. B. C. networks.
